

The following code will not work since the body of the fⁿ is absent.

Client.cpp

Matrix ← ^{bound} matmult(^{↓ fⁿ} m₁, m₂);

main() {

m₃ = matmult(m₁, m₂);

m₃.print();
}

But you can Use a Proxy
instead of Actual to get the computation done on a remote server.

Eric Gamma.

- Proxy Pattern
- Strategy Pattern

Middleware

perce or

Nelson

Remote Procedure
calls

IDL (Interface
Description
Language)
Compile

Interface → Proxy, Stub,

≠ PLs